

Getting Organised for Transition to Secondary School Workshop

Making the process seamless and as easy as possible for your grade 6 child

Transitioning to secondary school is a significant event for students. It's a time of immense change in their physical, social and emotional wellbeing. On top of this then comes the demand of adjusting to a secondary school environment including higher academic and organisation needs.

This interactive workshop is designed to open the door for students to a simple, structured and adaptable system for time and diary management, provide ideas on how they can start preparing now and decrease stress for both students and their families. Students will be provided with tips and strategies on how to cope with the move to secondary school and learn basic organisational skills.

Facilitator - Amanda Lecaude

Amanda is an experienced professional organiser specialising in reducing stress and the sense of being overwhelmed which can come with feeling disorganised. She has a particular interest in young people and students who are at a time in their life when they are transitioning to young adulthood at the same time as they are learning to cope with a new way of interacting with their schools and the education process. As a mother of two sons at various stages in their education Amanda understands the importance of a successful transition between the different schooling levels.

Amanda is an Expert Member of the Australasian Association of Professional Organisers.
